Where we share your Personal Data with these service providers, we will – as required by law - put in place contracts to ensure they process your Personal Data in accordance with our instructions and to adopt security measures to protect your Personal Data.

For Website users within the EEA/UK the legal bases relevant for the transfer of Personal Data to third parties can be found in no. 4 above.

6. Do we transfer your data internationally (third country transfers)?

Some recipients of Personal Data may be located outside the EEA/UK and/or outside of the countries which you reside in (e.g. outside of Japan, China, Singapore) and these countries may not offer a level of protection equivalent to the one granted in your jurisdiction.

Where Personal Data of Website users from the EEA/UK is transferred to locations outside the EEA/UK, we will, as required by law, ensure that your privacy rights are adequately protected either because the respective country to which Personal Data are transferred has been recognized as providing an adequate level of protection by the competent body (Art. 45 GDPR) or the transfer is subject to appropriate safeguards provided by entering into standard data protection clauses of the European Union or the UK equivalent with the recipient (Art. 46 GDPR) unless GDPR provides for an exception or you have given explicit consent (Art. 49 GDPR). In addition to this, we intend to, where necessary, agree on additional measures with recipients to ensure an adequate level of data protection. If the destination country has not been recognized as providing an adequate level of protection by the competent body, the standard contractual clauses of the European Commission (from the implementing decision (EU) 2021/914 of June 4, 2021) (as amended by the International Data Transfer Addendum to the EU Commission Standard Contractual Clauses issued by the UK Information Commissioner if the Website user is located in the UK) are regularly the basis for the transfer. Insofar as the transfer in this context is made to a service provider acting as a processor for us, Module Two (transfer from controllers to processors) of the standard contractual clauses is relevant; insofar as the transfer is made to other third parties, Module One (transfer from controllers to controllers) is relevant.

Where Personal Data of Website users from Japan is transferred to locations outside Japan, we will, as required by law, ensure that your privacy rights are adequately protected either because the respective country to which Personal Data are transferred has been recognized as providing an adequate level of protection by the competent body (Art. 28.1 APPI) or the transfer is subject to appropriate safeguards provided by entering into an appropriate data processing agreement (Art. 28.1 APPI) APPI provides for an exception or you have given explicit consent (Art. 28.1 APPI). In addition to this, we intend to, where necessary, agree on additional measures with recipients to ensure an adequate level of data protection.

For Website users from PRC or Singapore, where your Personal Data is being transferred or shared outside of your country of residence, we will, as required by applicable law, put in place contractual and other measures to ensure your Personal Data is provided with protection that is at least comparable to that required under applicable law in your jurisdiction.

Where Personal Data of Website users from Taiwan is transferred to third parties or to locations outside Taiwan, we will, as required by law, ensure that your privacy rights are adequately protected by undertaking contractual supervision of such third-party recipients.

Where Personal Data of Website users from Switzerland is transferred to locations outside of your country, we will, as required by law, ensure that your privacy rights are adequately protected either because the respective country to which Personal Data are transferred has been recognized by the Swiss Federal Council as providing an adequate level of protection or because the transfer is subject to appropriate safeguards provided by entering into standard data protection clauses acknowledged by the Swiss Federal Data Protection and Information Commissioner ("FDPIIC") unless FADP provides for an exception or you have given explicit consent.

Transfers of Personal Data from Switzerland to EEA member states and the UK are sufficiently covered since these jurisdictions have been recognized as providing an adequate level of data protection by the Swiss Federal Council. For data transfers to the USA and Taiwan, we have entered with the data recipient abroad into standard data protection clauses of the European Union as acknowledged by the FDPIIC and have conducted a transfer impact assessment.

A copy of the standard data protection clauses of the European Union can be found at: <https://www.borgwarner.com/legal/euscc>. If you would like to know which of the clauses apply to a specific transfer or for copies of other safeguards please contact privacy@borgwarner.com.
